

JOIN ONLINE HERE

RESISTANCE(S)

RESISTANCE(S)

JOINT ONLINE LECTURE SERIES

Resistance is never merely an abstract opposition. It is lived in bodies, relations, institutions, and shared worlds. From a political-phenomenological perspective, resistance becomes visible wherever subjects encounter limits, endure exhaustion and vulnerability, contest forms of oppression, or interrupt sedimented orders. The series asks how such experiences reshape agency, conflict, and collective life - and how resisting can disclose new possibilities of freedom and transformation.

PROGRAM

START

16:15 CET · 17:15 EET · 10:15 ET · 09:15 CT · 07:15 PT

12 OCT 2026

Elodie Boulil

Resistance(s) and Interiority

19 OCT 2026

Mickaëlle Provost

Experience, Trial and Conflictuality in the Lived Experience of Racial Oppression

02 NOV 2026

Cristian Ciocan

Different Fatigues, Different Resistances

16 NOV 2026

Kurt Mertel

Resistance beyond Activity and Activism, Passivity and Quietism: The Emancipatory Project of the "Early" and "Late" Heidegger

30 NOV 2026

Ignacio Quepons

Resistance and Vulnerability: Ethical Implications of the Experience of Injustice

14 DEC 2026

Dorothee Legrand

Resistance of the event - deconstruction, psychoanalysis and ethics.

HOSTED BY

Andreea Smaranda Aldea (DePaul University) · Thomas Bedorf (FernUniversität in Hagen)
 Thiemo Breyer (University of Cologne) · Sara Heinämaa (University of Jyväskylä)
 Steffen Herrmann (FernUniversität in Hagen) · Sophie Loidolt (TU Darmstadt)
 Délia Popa (Villanova University) · Gerhard Thonhauser (TU Darmstadt)